What are we looking for?
Researchers at The University of New South Wales and the Autism CRC are seeking ALL ADULTS aged 25+ years to complete an online questionnaire about their health and wellbeing.

Will I be paid?
You will not be paid for taking part in this study. However, you will be making a highly valuable contribution to assist in improving the lives of adults on the autism spectrum.

What's involved?
You will complete a questionnaire about your health and wellbeing. You may complete it either online or via paper copy. You can stop being a part of the study at any time.

Who can participate?
- ANY adult aged 25+
- Living in Australia
- You do not have to be autistic

The impact of this study
The questionnaire has been designed, developed, and findings interpreted in close consultation with autistic adults. It gathers information on important topics that are poorly understood such as employment, healthcare, social supports, mental wellbeing, sensory sensitivities, trauma and bullying. The data gathered so far has been published widely and presented at national and international conferences. Data gathered can help inform the development of appropriate tools, programs and services for autistic adults and their carers.

Sam Arnold or Ashley Stevens
e: autismcrc@unsw.edu.au
p: (02) 9385 0620 / 9385 3021
www.3dn.unsw.edu.au
Register your interest with the research team through this link: https://goo.gl/Xrzxwn